

Sons and Daughters of Oregon Pioneers

Ira Allen Hooker traveled with his family across the great plains in an 1844 wagon train. The train arrived in Oregon in the fall and they settled in what is now Polk county.

There is an organization called "Sons and Daughters of Oregon Pioneers" (SDOP). To become a member your Oregon pioneer must have lived in Oregon Territory prior to Oregon becoming a state on February 14, 1859.

I have applied for and been accepted by the SDOP society.
